Just in front of Portovenere at other side of the Gulf of the poets, this imposing fortress looked after the Gulf since the XII Century. The castles raises on the peak of a rocky promontory that ends the Lerici bay. It has a polygonal shape and it is surrounded by large walls; from the outdoor terrace of the castle (where civil weddings in Lerici are celebrated), the view is incomparable and it sweeps from the nearby unspoiled beaches to Palmaria island and Portovenere (hint - An hidden elevator (built into the rock) can bring elderly people at the entrance of the castle).
